My Simple Calculator

- This is how the calculator looks at rest

- If I enter "1+3" and then hover over the equal sign, you see it changes color to green

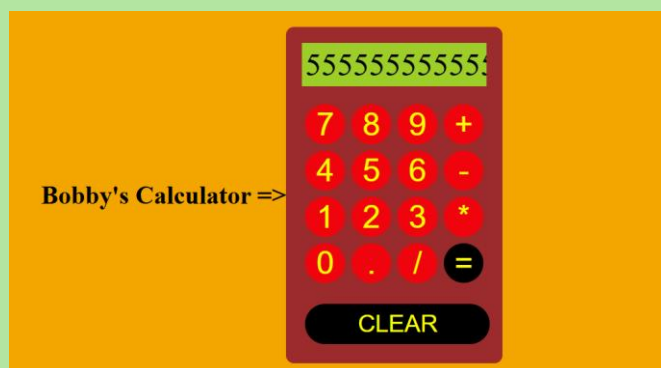

- After entering "=", we see that the calculator produced the correct answer
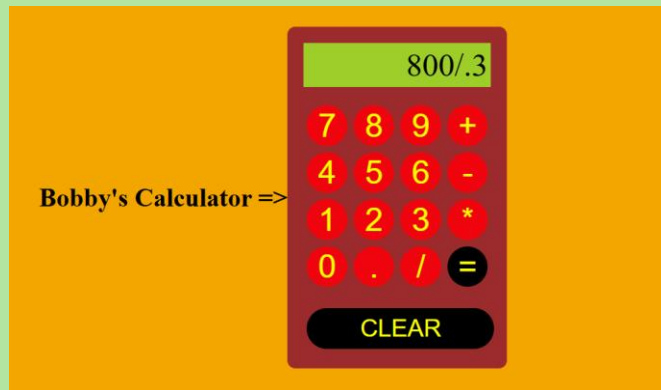

- Before I enter a new equation, I need to CLEAR the screen
- You can see that hovering over the CLEAR button changes the button to blue

- After clicking on the CLEAR button, we see that the screen went back to its blank screen

- Here's what the calculator screen looks like when you enter more digits than can fit on the screen

- Lets try the division operation

- We see that the calculator produced the correct answer once again!

Thank you for taking the time to view my calculator
